Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D. C. 20505

8 September 1983

The Honorable Gerald P. Carmen Administrator
 General Services Administration
 Washington, D. C. 20405

Dear Jerry:

Over the past months, my staff has been working with the General Services Administration (GSA) to resolve the matter of Standard Level User Charges (SLUC) [redacted]. At best, these meetings have resulted in a position where GSA will only reduce the SLUC payment, not waive it. That portion of SLUC paid to GSA would go to the Federal Building Fund. Therein lies our dilemma. The amount of money which the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA or Agency) would recover is insufficient to manage and operate the building at the level of services which is necessary.

STAT

When discussion began between our agencies in 1980, this Agency proceeded to take over the responsibility for maintenance and operation of the building on the basis of an understanding we had with the Regional Administrator at that time, Mr. Walter Kallaur. We were granted a use permit to operate and maintain [redacted]. The permit was granted based upon the extraordinary operation and maintenance needs arising from the highly technical functions being conducted therein. Accordingly, the payment of SLUC was not contemplated other than for reimbursable services such as for the Federal Protective Officers. We were given to understand in recent meetings, however, that regardless of what was agreed upon by the Regional Administrator, it is necessary to pay an additional and significant portion of the SLUC into the Federal Building Fund. It should be noted that, based upon our reliance on the previous understanding, the Agency has made no provision in FY 1983 or in the FY 1984 budget for SLUC payments beyond those for services mentioned above.

STAT

In order to resolve this issue, I request that, in accordance with the authority granted by Title 40 U.S.C. 122, you transfer jurisdiction of [redacted] to the CIA, subject, of course, to the recommendation by the National Capital Planning Commission as provided by the statute. As an alternative, I request that you exempt the CIA, as you are empowered to do by 40 U.S.C. 490(j), from payment of all SLUC pertinent to [redacted] as being infeasible or impracticable to assess.

Mr. Gerald P. Carmen

[redacted] as you may be aware, [redacted] [redacted] The mission being performed there is most vital to our national security. Moreover, activity and attendant equipment there will grow considerably in the near future. Cleanliness is an absolute necessity to the functioning [redacted] but more important, is the uninterrupted power, HVAC and allied operation and maintenance tasks required to enable uninterrupted performance of that national intelligence effort.

STAT

I assure you that our requirements are very real. They are necessarily stringent far beyond those ordinarily required by a Government agency, such as in an office environment. Towards this end I am prepared, and would welcome the opportunity, to brief you on the mission and function of the activities [redacted] If you desire such a briefing, I would include a tour of the building so that you may judge for yourself the specialized nature of the facility and why the operation and maintenance effort is both costly and necessary for the Agency.

STAT

Please be assured that I am most appreciative of your support to this Agency. I believe, however, that it is absolutely essential that the CIA be granted jurisdiction over the facility or, alternatively, an exemption from all SLUC, to preclude degradation in the operation and maintenance of this national asset.

Yours,

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
